PROFILE

I am a motivated career changer with a strong foundation in HTML, CSS, and JavaScript, actively transitioning into software development and cyber security. I have hands-on experience building responsive front-end projects through SheCodes, Harvard CS50, and Code First Girls, and I am currently pursuing an NCFE Level 3 Certificate in Cyber Security Practices. I am skilled in coding standards, design tools, and thorough testing to deliver user-focused solutions. Organised, detail-oriented, and self-motivated, I have a proven track record of leading teams, mentoring, and delivering measurable results. I am eager to contribute my technical, creative, and collaborative skills in a Junior Developer or entry-level cyber security role.
